To Professor Alexander Litus
President of the Ukrainian Academy of Dermatovenereology and all Dermatologists in Ukraine

Dear Professor Alexander Litus

Dear Colleagues

With this letter we would like to express the Polish Dermatological Society's highest concern about the dramatic situation in Ukraine. We watch the developments with great sadness and disbelief. We hope that in the current extreme conditions the Ukrainian dermatologists remain safe and are able to provide support for patients with chronic, life-threatening and severe dermatological diseases.

As Polish dermatologists we condemn the unprecedented attack of Russian troops on Ukraine and we declare that we stand in solidarity with our colleagues and all people in Ukraine who struggle for freedom and democracy.

Probably every dermatologist in Poland is supporting humanitarian and medical organizations in providing help for the victims of war. Many of us have used various communications channels to individually express solidarity with the Ukrainian nation and our colleagues in Ukraine.

We will continue supporting the Ukrainian citizens as long as needed.

Stay strong and stay safe.

On behalf of the Board of the Polish Dermatological Society
